

From relaxing like an Italian lord to acquiring the ultimate property butler

A quiet word

Fancy embarking on your own grand design, but without the stress and heartache? Hush Developments offers more than lip service to the ideal, providing a cherry-picked team of professionals that specialise in everything from land acquisition to architecture, construction and interior design – and all with a strongly client-focused ethos. Typical of the super-luxurious homes in which the company specialises is Tansanee, a 6,830sq ft new-build project on Sandbanks, that most exclusive of resorts near Poole Harbour on the English Riviera. With stunning views, multiple terraces, an indoor swimming pool, gym and cinema room, this breathtaking property proves that acquiring your dream home – while avoiding nightmares – is fully achievable.

For details, ring 01202 201512, or email info@hushdevs.co.uk

Raised on Candy

Having honed her skills with luxury developer Candy & Candy, Lucy Powles has secured several world-class projects through Cocovara Interiors, the company she founded in 2010. Characterised by uncompromising attention to detail, the designer has developed a signature style of sophisticated neutral interiors, enlivened by touches of colour. At the forefront, however, is always the client's own taste and personality.

For more information, ring 020 7834 1333, or visit www.cocovara.com

Tuscan treat

Amid the rolling campagna, Borgo Pignano is a vast 18th-century nobleman's estate converted into a luxury hotel with sumptuous grounds. Rooms can be booked for individual stays, but the restored villa and farmhouses – complete with a grand ballroom, original frescoes and marble baths – offer the perfect milieu for private celebrations. Fresh Tuscan delicacies, prepared from produce harvested in Borgo Pignano's own organic farmland and vegetable gardens, will make any stay a treat for food lovers.

For more details, ring +39 0588 35032, email reservations@borgopignano.com or visit www.borgopignano.it

AT YOUR SERVICE

The London Management Company launched in 2010 with the aim of becoming the capital's leading property and lifestyle-management firm. Offering what Rupert Collingwood, managing director, calls 'a limitless service that caters for all our clients' requirements', his team will handle everything from finding your dream home to switching on the heating before you arrive. No letters will be lying on the doormat, the bills will be paid, the interior gleaming and clothes laundered. So whether you require development, refurbishment or maintenance services, whether you're a home-owner, landlord or investor with a large portfolio, turn to the ultimate 'property butler'.

Contact Rupert on 020 7193 9979, or visit www.thelondonmanagementcompany.com

More than a famous store

Harrods Estates is opening a new office at 58 Fulham Rd, SW3. Providing market-leading expertise in property sales, lettings, acquisitions and management, it extends the presence and services of the group's existing Knightsbridge and Mayfair offices to Chelsea and South Kensington. As a vendor or purchaser, that means unprecedented access to everything from Harrods' innovative interior-design service to chartering a private jet; from five-star property management and 24-hour concierge to individual moving-in packs. Among a host of other incentives, clients will receive a special benefit to mark the team's arrival in Chelsea: double the recently introduced 100,000 bonus Harrods Rewards points to spend in store.

Ring 020 7225 6700, email enquiries@harrodsestates.com or visit www.harrodsestates.com